DENNISON'S FOUND IN ABANDONED CAMP

Boston Lawyer and Wife
Lost Four Days in New Hampshire Forest

SUFFERED GREATLY
FROM EXHAUSTION

Wandered Two Days Before They Reached Shelter — Two Hotel Employes Who Found Them Will Receive a Reward of $1,500.

DIXVILLE NOTCH, N. H., Sept. 25. — Joseph A. Dennison, former assistant district attorney of Suffolk county, Mass., and his wife, who had been lost for nearly four days in the wilderness of the northern foothills of the White mountains, were found late Saturday. They had suffered greatly from exhaustion and lack of food and sleep, but it was not thought their hardships would cause permanent injury to their health. The Dennisons were discovered in an abandoned logging camp on the shores of Swift Diamond stream in the Dartmouth college grant, a wild section of country near the Maine border, and 10 miles from the hotel from which they had set out Wednesday afternoon for a stroll. In seeking to return, they had lost their bearings in the almost trackless woods, and for two days had wandered in quest of a habitation. Not until Friday did they find shelter in an old lumber shack, where they remained, too tired to walk any longer, and not knowing which way to turn. Mrs. Dennison's feet were so painfully swollen that it was doubtful whether she could have continued much further.

Discovery of the missing lawyer and his wife was made by Earl Gould and Scott Copp, employees of the hotel, who had joined with scores of other persons in the hunt. As a result of their successful efforts, they are entitled to a reward of $1,500, of which $1,000 was offered by Daniel H. Conkley of Boston, brother of Mrs. Dennison, and $500 by Thomas G. Washburn of that city, a close friend of the former district attorney. Mayor James J. Curley of Boston and other friends of the missing couple, who arrived yesterday to help in the search, were on hand to greet Mr. and Mrs. Dennison when they were brought out of the woods last night.

It was early yesterday morning that the two searchers, who had been tramping the vicinity of Swift Diamond stream through the night in a heavy rain, came on the abandoned logging camp in which the missing couple had taken refuge. After giving such help as was possible under the circumstances, one of the young men went to a farm at Wentworth's location several miles away and from there telephoned word of the Dennisons' safety, without waiting to hear the details of their experiences.

Although it is only 10 miles from Dixville Notch to the shack where the Dennisons had taken refuge, it was necessary to send a team 25 miles over back country roads to bring them back to their hotel.

ABUNDANT MEAL IN A CHOCOLATE DROP

High Cost of Living Problem Solved — Twenty-one Kinds of Food in the New Pellet.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25. — Adam Drexler Warner of California, known there and in the corn belt at Silver Dick Warner because he chummed with Bryan and wrote a book about free silver in 1896, has a new invention. It is a "chocolate drop." His friends declare it is a pippin. He himself thinks it will solve the H. C. L. He offers one to a caller, then he says:

"How does it taste?"

"Well, there's nuts and raisins in it, and maybe—"

"Ha!" says Warner. "Nuts and raisins is right, and 19 other things. Twenty-one different foods in that pellet, my boy. Eat five of 'em and you've got a full meal."

"Listen: There's the essence of nuts and raisins, as you say, and also of wheat, corn, oats, rice, lentils, beans, peanuts, walnuts, olives, grapefruit, oranges, figs, prunes, pineapples, asparagus, spinach, lettuce, onions, carrots and celery."

"The chocolate is just a disguise to make the food attractive to children. A loaf of bread contains 7.5 percent, my food 12.7 percent. What do you think of that? Have another chocolate drop, but don't overeat."

"While practicing law in Los Angeles," he said, "I got an idea that a lot of time and sickness and worry over domestic problems could be saved by adapting food to modern requirements. I hired a chemist to experiment with me. I got wrapped in the idea, body and soul. For a whole year I hardly went home."

"When I thought I had perfected my invention it contained the essentials of all the foods I have named—not a scrap of meat, for I'm a vegetarian."

Mr. Warner admitted that he occasionally enjoyed a small snack of something besides his concentrated chocolate drops, but he insisted that he and his wife had lived for three months on nothing but the drops and gained weight.

Town Treasurer Had Been Prominent in Public Affairs in Athol.

ATHOL, Mass., Sept. 25. — Town Treasurer Lucien Lord, for many years among Athol's most prominent citizens, died suddenly at the Kendall hospital last night, where he had been confined two weeks.

Mr. Lord was born here Oct. 11, 1840, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ethan Lord. He was one of the founders of the Athol Transcript, in 1871, but retired from active connection with it several years ago. He then became active with real estate concerns, developing the Masonic block, the Academy of Music and the Pequoig block. He was also connected with the development of the Lake and South Park properties.

Mr. Lord was actively associated with the Unitarian church and for 30 years was a church superintendent, he and associates founding the Second Unitarian society here in 1877.

From 1869 to 1888 he was postmaster of Athol. In 1891 he represented the first Worcester district in the legislature. He held many town offices and besides being treasurer was a member of the board of assessors. He was long connected with the board of investment of the Athol Savings bank.

Mr. Lord was a member of all the Masonic bodies of the town. In 1868 he married Delia M. Poire of Royalston. Mrs. Lord died about a year ago. He leaves a brother, Wallace Lord of this town, and two sisters, Mrs. John L. Earle and Mrs. Sabra Taylor of Athol.

The truth about some men is never known until after they acquire monuments — and then it may not be found thereon.
